

BIO145: Marine Biology Online

Lead instructor: Phil Pepe, Ph.D., 602-285-7106

ASU Transfer Information:

- BIO Departmental Elective, Natural Science - General (SG)

Lecture format:

- Textbook readings are assigned to supplement every lesson (12).
- Online Notes are used during every lesson to present lecture material.

Laboratory Format:

- Online activities are performed during the lab portion of every lesson.
- Activities include responding to questions and keeping an e-journal.

Online Examination format:

- Online multiple-choice note quizzes (12).
- Online multiple-choice lab quizzes (12).
- Online essay quizzes (12).
- Proctored midterm exam taken at the WebCT Testing Center in the Phoenix College Library (1).
- Proctored final exam taken at the WebCT Testing Center in the Phoenix College Library (1).

Homework Assignments such as reading and writing:

- Readings in chapters (16) of textbook.

Attendance policy:

- Online attendance is required and will be recorded for each lesson (12).

Prerequisites and expectations of prior experience or knowledge on a given subject:

- BIO145 Marine Biology has no prerequisites.

Skills that help students succeed:

- Ability to understand written instructions are essential.
- Strong study habits and time management skills are essential.
- College level reading and writing abilities are important.
- Basic computer literacy is important.