

ENERGY AUDIT & BPI ENVELOPE-SHELL

Have your company prepared for BPI Accreditation and ready to reap the benefits of HomeStar in only one short week!

Everblue's five-day intensive HomeStar BA/ENV Combo course combines our BPI Building Analyst Training and Envelope Training into a concise week-long program. This course includes everything you need for BPI Certification: classroom instruction, hands-on field training, the BPI Written exams, and the BPI field exams. With the proper training and diagnostic equipment, a BPI Building Analyst is a qualified home energy auditor. Make recommendations to homeowners on how to reduce energy consumption and improve home performance.

Geared for HERS raters, home inspectors, HVAC professionals, insulation professionals, general contractors, homebuilders, engineers with a four-year degree and other construction professionals.

Course fee includes classroom training, field training, course materials, study materials, BPI application and exams. 40 hours of instruction.

Students will take the BPI exams during the last meeting.
